

Hello everyone and welcome to our Camelot Production of Once Upon a Mattress! I am so honored and excited to be doing my first Camelot show with you all! I am constantly impressed by your talents and can't wait to make something really fun together.

Once Upon a Mattress is a goofy feel-good comedy musical with a simple plot about not judging a book by its cover. Above all else it is ridiculous and funny so we will be working on ways to bring comedy into our scripts, both with the lines and also in-between them.

Singing Auditions will be held by appointment on Saturday September 26th. Please prepare about 1 minute of a Musical Theatre song that can also show some comedy and fun! Please come prepared with an instrumental track to sing along to (a YouTube track works fine)

Reading Auditions will be held Tuesday September 29 from 6:30-8:30pm. Please be prepared to read from the sides attached, you do not need to be memorized but please be familiar with the scenes, what they are about, and the characters involved. We will also be doing a few improv exercises to test chemistry and comedy!

Dance Auditions will be Thursday October 1st from 6:30-8:00. Please bring a water and comfortable clothes and shoes.

Callbacks will be Saturday 10/3 TBD as needed. Most of all just be willing to take risks and be silly. I am very excited to see you all very soon!-

Mr. Evan
